

ABSTRACT

This invention provides a system and method of visually presenting future drug use in a subject where the subject's usage of a drug is altered. The invention comprises selecting a drug associated with Digital Patient Information (DPI). Risk periods associated with the future drug usage period are also displayed.